WHITE MAN IS NOW SIOUX CHIEF

Adopted Son of Old Chieftain Becomes Head of Tribe at Standing Rock.

MANDAN, N. D., June 7.—With the passing of Chief John Grass, of the Sioux tribe of Indians, who recently died at Fort Yates, the headquarters of the Standing Rock agency, his mantle falls upon the shoulders of the only white man ever adopted into the tribe. Thus Captain A. B. Welch, of Mandan, adopted son of the old chieftain, becomes, according to ancient customs of the Sioux, the chief of the tribe.

The new Sioux chief, whose Indian name is Mato-Watape, is with the United States infantry in France and is the aide of Major General Hunter Liggett. A grandson of John Grass, Albert Grass, is serving with the same division.

Although there were formerly four chieftains of the Sioux, only one line remains, and the old chief's sons all being dead, Captain Welch, by reason of being an adopted son takes precedence over a grandson in the direct line.

Has an Indian Name.
The name Mato-Watape is the Sioux war name of the old chief and means "Charging Bear." When he was adopted Captain Welch chose this name as the one by which he would be known among the Indians.

Although the chief of today has not the same powers of the chief of years gone by, the title still gives him the respect of the Indians and they recognize him as their leader. A chief still represents his tribe in all the disputes or conferences with the government.

Captain Welch for many years has been a student of the Indian customs and formed many friendships with members of the Sioux tribe. In 1913, because of a mutual regard that had grown up between the captain and the chief, John Grass, the latter asked the captain if he would be willing to be adopted as his son. The captain consented and, conforming to the ancient ceremonies of the Sioux, was taken into the tribe by a service held at Fort Yates, the old trading center. The service began at dawn and lasted until sundown.

The body of the old chief has been laid in the cemetery at Fort Yates and the Sioux now look for the return of their "pale face chief" from the great war to assume control of their affairs and act as their spokesman in all matters in which the tribe is involved.

ALASKA FISHERY PRODUCTS VALUABLE

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Fishery products of Alaska in 1917 were valued at $51,405,260, or more than seven times the purchase price paid by the United States to Russia for the entire territory, according to the bureau of fisheries.

Salmon represented 93 per cent of the year's total catch, amounting to $47,778,081, as compared with $1,120,226 for halibut, $767,729 for herring, and $744,976 for cod. Whaling operations returned products worth $653,852.

This unprecedented yield of fishery products in Alaska at a time when the world is in need of food is an achievement for which the country may justly feel gratified, said an announcement by the bureau.

Fur products from Alaska were worth $1,031,638, exclusive of fur-seal skins and fox skins, valued at $310,000, shipped by the government from the Pribiloff islands.

BASEBALL NOT ASK LOWER RATES
CHICAGO, June 6.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, announced tonight that his organization would refuse to join in a proposed request to the government for special railway rates for baseball players.

OGDEN NEXT MEETING PLACE OF ELKS OF UTAH

PROVO, June 6.—Naming Ogden as its convention city for 1919, the Utah Elks' State association closed its convention here today. Features of the day in addition to the business session were a patriotic address by Governor Bamberger, himself an Elk, delivered in the open air to residents and visitors, a big patriotic parade with prizes to the winners, the annual banquet, many amusement features and a farewell dance.

The officers selected besides President Dibblee are: Lew Merriam, Eureka, first vice president; H. W. Deighton, Park City, second vice president; W. E. Andrews, Provo, third vice president; H. J. Packer, Ogden, secretary, and Dr. G. W. Shores, Salt Lake, treasurer.

President Dibblee in a brief speech of acceptance of the obligations of the office of president told the delegates that they had already in their various lodges received some inkling in recent months of what might be expected in the way of even more extended and widespread service in the future, and he urged them to take home the spirit of energetic service for the coming twelvemonth.

The parade, which was held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, was one of the most impressive patriotic pageants ever held in Provo. The judges who made the awards were Mayor LeRoy Dixon of Provo, Edgar Cathcart, of Juneau, Alaska, and E. C. Tinsley of Pocatello, Idaho.

The prizes were won as follows: Best appearance of lodge in line, Park City; largest number of members present of Elk lodge, in proportion to membership, Eureka; best float in patriotic nature, "Under Hun Rule," Park City, showing a family cringing beneath a sword wielded by a Hun soldier; best decorated automobile, H. B. Gaskill, Salt Lake lodge. The famous silver shield was awarded to Salt Lake lodge No. 85, which now holds it permanently. The Salt Lake "Uncle Sam" uniforms made a most impressive appearance.

Red Cross Profits.
Not only were Red Cross workers prominent in the parade, but they carried fund catching flags as did various lodges, and profited to the extent of several hundred dollars. Ogden lodge turned in $75, and the members of Provo and other lodges also caught their full share. There was an auction after the parade and Harry Joseph auctioned off a Cotswold lamb for $60, the bidders being R. R. Irvine, Jr., $10; A. A. Mitchell, $14; J. B. Lloyd, $15, and John Roundy, $30. Red Cross ribbons brought $276.90 Wednesday and $200 today. The sale was under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Miller of Provo.

At the morning business session Secretary H. J. Packer in his report declared that not only was there an increase in membership, but that the spirit of Elksdom was spreading in the state of Utah. The reports and work of both Secretary Packer, who is from Ogden lodge, and Dr. G. W. Shores of Salt Lake, both received the heartiest commendation from the auditing committee, which paid a high tribute to the business system installed by these two officers. The association responded by re-electing them for the third successive term.

In view of the present day tendency toward economy and in the interest of uniformity as well it was voted to recommend a standardized uniform for public appearances of members at Elks gatherings.

The delegates were asked to impress upon their respective lodges the importance of the proper rendition of the national anthem. It was suggested that new members be required to demonstrate their knowledge of this song.

Park City lodge received commendation for a detail of its tribute to the flag at lodge meetings.

Retiring President Oscar A. Forslund expressed his appreciation of the manner in which his hands had been upheld in his work the past year and expressed the hope that both the state and the local organizations would continue to grow and spread the principles of Elksdom in the future.

CHILD'S ARM IS CAUGHT IN BELT

Norma Phillips, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Phillips, 314 Eighteenth street, sustained a badly lacerated right arm last night when it was accidentally caught in a belt on machinery at the Banner Ice Cream factory near the Ogden river bridge. The little girl had been playing near the machinery when her arm was caught in the belt and drawn swiftly down to the pulley. The arm was torn from the elbow to the wrist and the flesh is said to have been laid open to the bone.

The child was rushed in the hospital and Edward I. Rich attended. Several stitches were required to close the wound.

She was reported at the hospital this morning to be in good condition, although suffering considerable pain. She will probably be removed to her home today.

BERLIN PRESS WARNS PEOPLE

Military Writer Says French Are Richly Provided With Reserves and Newly Consolidated.

AMSTERDAM, June 6.—The Berlin Vossische Zeitung's correspondent in an article on the offensive on the western front, says:

"It should be emphasized repeatedly, in view of exaggerated hopes, that a decision can be procured only comparatively slowly.

"The foe is enabled to organize his resistance owing to his brilliantly constructed railway system, which has junctions and unloading stations at Compiègne and Villers Coterets.

"The German supreme command must well proceed now against the newly consolidated French front, which is richly provided with reserves, and bear the great losses which experience shows are entailed by such operations.

"When the French brought up big reserves, the exploitation of the surprise movement was to a certain extent ended. Presumably a certain change will soon occur in the entire system of battle operations. The battle can only proceed slowly; a decision cannot be procured in a few days. We should therefore, arm ourselves anew with patience. The continuation of the big offensive will come at the right time and will again mean a surprise for our enemies."

SUPPLY SHIP OFF VIRGINIA CAPES

Captain of Schooner Reports Vessel Masquerading as a Neutral Trader.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 6.—What he now believes was a German submarine supply ship masquerading as a neutral trader was sighted off the Virginia Capes on May 25 by Captain Ray of the American schooner Joel Cook which reached here recently.

"At the time I attached no significance to the incident but on reaching this port and learning of German submarine activities down the coast, I communicated what I had observed to naval authorities," said Captain Ray today.

"I was off Fenwick's island lightship (off the Virginia capes) on the 25th when I sighted two submarines which I took to be Americans on trial cruises," the skipper said. "They were big fellows—bigger than I thought submarines were made. They seemed to be trailing a steamer but after a time this steamer, strangely enough, dropped astern of me then sized up and came alongside without hailing me. A mist then set in and I lost sight of her. There was no distinguishing mark on this vessel and she flew no flag."

Off the Fenwick's island lightship Captain Ray said he observed two gray cylinders which he believed were mines.

SUSPECTS ARE CAUGHT AT ELY

Two Men in Army Uniform Alleged Issuers of Bogus Orders on Quartermaster.

ELY, Nev., June 6.—A. D. Brown and J. W. Rose are in custody here. Their description tallies with that of two men being sought, who left Reno on May 30. The men at that time were in army uniform and were driving a six-cylinder Buick roadster, it is said. They came to Ely through Austin. They are alleged to have issued a bogus order on the quartermaster at the Presidio and cashed it to pay for luncheon obtained at a local restaurant.

They were placed under arrest by Under Sheriff Newman after stepping into their machine to go to the county jail. They threw the machine into high gear and ran through the city at great speed. They were pursued, however, and rearrested by Sheriff Newman and members of the sheriff's staff.

The men are now being held on a technical charge of speeding an automobile and every effort is being made by the local authorities to obtain definite information as to whether the men are wanted at other points, and if so, on what charge.

BRITISH BOMB HUN STATIONS

Twenty Tons of Bombs Dropped on Different Targets on Wednesday.

LONDON, June 6.—The British official communication dealing with aviation, issued tonight, says:

Wednesday night our long-distance bombing machines again attacked the Metz-Sablon station triangle and also the railway sidings at Thionville, dropping five tons of bombs with good results, although the visibility was indifferent. Thursday morning the railway station at Coblenz was heavily attacked by us. Good bursts were observed on the railway line. All the machines emerged safely.

The fine weather of Wednesday enabled our airmen to carry out much photographic reconnaissance and artillery work. Twenty tons of bombs were dropped on different targets, including hostile dumps and railway billets, the Armentieres and Roye stations and the Zebrugge seaplane base.

In addition, our long distance day bombing machines heavily attacked the railroad station and barracks at Treves and the Metz-Sablons railway station, and the railways at Karlsruhe, returning without loss.

Seven hostile machines and three German observation balloons were shot down during the day by our airmen and three hostile airplanes were driven down out of control. Four of our machines are missing.

Wednesday night thirteen tons of bombs were dropped by us on the St. Quentin, Boesinghe, Cambrai and Armentieres stations.

All the machines returned.

FIRST UTAH VICTIM OF THE SHELL SHOCK

SALT LAKE, June 7.—A hero of two of the most famous battles of the present war, those of Ypres and the Somme, Edward More, a native of Utah, is the first shell-shocked fighter to return to the Beehive state.

Mr. More's birthplace is Lehi. His mother is Mrs. Samuel Jackson. He enlisted January 8, 1915, as a member of the Fifty-sixth Canadian infantry and served on the battle fronts in France about eighteen months altogether.

Owing to his nervousness resulting from the shell shock and the wounds he had received in historic battles, he was obliged to be withdrawn from service and was taken to the army hospital at Calgary, Canada, where he was given a leave of absence only a week ago.

He is taking advantage of it by visiting with friends and acquaintances in his home state.
